A history and a reference to any dedicated jewelry student studying Cork craftsmanship By Midwest Book Review Cork Silver And Gold: Four Centuries Of Craftsmanship was published to coincide with the exhibition in the Crawford Gallery Cork, but stands alone as well as the first to detail the work of Cork silversmiths and goldsmiths, and will appeal to specialty art collections. Both public and private holdings were culled for this feature: what results is a display which will serve as both a history and a reference to any dedicated jewelry student studying Cork craftsmanship. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. About the Author John Bowen is CEO of the Bowen Group, a substantial construction and property company. An engineer by profession, he has had a lifelong interest in Irish provincial silver, with a special interest in the silver of Cork. Conor O'Brien is retired from the pharmaceutical industry. Over the years he devoted much free time to researching old Irish silver, partly in conjunction with the National Museum, and his findings have been published in specialist journals.
